OBITUARIES

Henry Ray Davis | Mrs. John L. Brown

PAMPLIN - Henry Ray Davis, 49, of Route 1, Pamplin, died on Wednesday afternoon, August 1, 1979 at his residence.

Born in Appomattox County he was a son of the late Henry Harrison Davis and Nora Pugh Davis. He was a section foreman for Norfolk and Western Railway with 28 years of service and a veteran of World War II. He was a member of Pamplin United Methodist CHurch, the Woodmen of the World No 71 and Lynchburg Moose Lodge No 715.

He is survived by five sisters, Mrs. Florence Arthur of Lynchburg, Mrs. Myrtle Price, Mrs. Virginia Harris, Mrs. Frances Brown, and Mrs. Janie Almond all of Pamplin; three nieces, two nephews, two great-nieces and five great-nephews.

Funeral services were conducted at 3 p.m. Friday in Pamplin United Methodist CHurch by the Rev. Tom Boggs with burial in the Pamplin Community Cemetery.

Robinson Funeral Home was in charge of the arrangements.

Mrs. John L. Brown, 78, of 700 Eldon St., Lynchburg, died Tuesday in Lynchburg General Hospital.

Born in Baltimore, Md. she was a daughter of the late Henry D. Hoberock and Rosamond Krause Parker Hoberock. She was a widow of John Lindsay Brown. She was a member of West Lynchburg Baptist Church and was a retired secretary of the church.

She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Rosamond B. Power and Mrs. Olga B. Weiss, both of Lynchburg; a son, Lindsay Brown of Winnetka, Ill., eight grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

A graveside service will be conducted in Spring Hill Cemetery by the Revs. Frederick Arndt and Richard Thomas Woodall at 11 A.M. Thursday.

Diuguid Memorial Chapel is in charge of the arrangements.

among those known to be very susceptible to the effects of an Atlantic hurricane storm," states Maurice B. Rowe, Secretary of Commerce and Resources, in response to Jimenez," . . . and we wish to express our continued commitment and efforts in promoting sound land use and hurricane hazard mitigation plans and encouraging the purchase of flood insurance . . We look forward to a continued relationship and coordination between your agency, the State Water Control Board and the citizens of the Commonwealth."

RAIDER COACHES EXPECT LARGE TURNOUT FOR FOOTBALL

much better job than most people realize" said Coach Justus, "we had only one fumble all season, we didn't lose a fumble all season in the exchange between the center and quarterback." Tony Ferguson is the logical player to take over these duties since he has been back up center for two years.

Freddie Mitchell will definately be missed when the coach needs an extra point or field goal to win a game. Hopefully a kicking specialist will emerge to take over this offensive chore.

Some of the returning lettermen including Terry Woods, as established running back, Darrell Schrock, an accomplished receiver and Gus Paulette who can do anything. Tight end, Earnest Daye will be back as will Charles Rixey who may be moved to the offense. Ernie Chenault will probably be running out of the fullback position.

The Raiders will have a tough act to follow since last year's team won 9 games during regular season, won the Seminole District Championship, and was runner-up in the Region III competition, however Coach Justus says he does not need a crying towel.

The season opener will be at Gretna on September 7 with the first home game on September 14 against William Campbell.

SAFETY SENSE

Heading Off Collisions

Many of the traffic accidents that cause more than 1,800,000 disabling injuries each year result from a lack of awareness between drivers of large and small vehicles.

CARS TEND TO CROWD—even run right over—the smaller vehicle on today's busy streets and highways.

For example, drivers often don't even know a motorcycle is on the road. Why? Because drivers are not trained to be on the look-out for motorcycles. They also do not know how to mix with motorcycles in traffic.

Motorcycle registrations in the United States have increased 150 percent since 1968; over five million are now registered. Statistics compiled by the Motorcycle Safety Foundation show that for every 10,000 registered motorcycles, 333 are likely to be involved in an accident.

What can the motorist do to help reduce this tragic toll? He can heed these hints from the Motorcycle Safety Foundation:

1. Be especially cautious at intersections—even on quiet streets—where 40 percent of motorcycle accidents involving another vehicle occur. Motorists, not cyclists, are at fault almost 70 percent of the time.

2. Yield the right-of-way to motorcyclists. The left turn poses the most substantial risk.

3. Respect the vehicle space of a motorcycle and its position in traffic: avoid crowding or passing a motorcycle in the same lane, and when you do pass, allow as much space for a motorcycle as for another car.

CANCER Answer line

American Cancer Society

A regular feature, prepared by the American Cancer Society, to help save your life from cancer.

A teenager writes: "I think that I would like a career in the health field, particularly one that helps cancer patients. I don't want to be a physician. What can you suggest?"

ANSWERline: According to the National Health Council, there are more than 200 different careers open to you. Many offer services and help to cancer patients and their families. For example, a cytotechnologist is a person who is trained to screen slides of human cells to detect the presence of cancerous or precancerous cells. A community health educator teaches people about cancer prevention and the importance of early diagnosis. Many different kinds of technicians from x-ray specialists to dietetic assistants to blood bank workers – are essential in the cancer field. For more information check with your local American Cancer Society Unit for free copies of the National Health Council's list of careers.

An engineer comments: "I know that immunotherapy is considered a new area of cancer treatment. What is its status at this point?"

ANSWERline: Immunotherapy is a way of restoring or boosting a cancer patient's own natural defense system to destroy his or her tumor. You are correct in saying that it is one of the newer areas of cancer treatment although the theories behind it are not new. One leading resgarcher, Dr. Evan Hersh, of the University of Texas, explains: "Immunotherapy today should be considered additive to conventional therapy. That is, it is used in addition to surgery, radiation or chemotherapy. It must be considered experimental; its long term efficacy and ultimate role in human cancer treatment is still to be proven."

An administrative assistant asks: "Are there ways to help educate the people in my firm about cancer without disrupting the working day?"

ANSWERline: Your local American Cancer Society Unit will be glad to work out an appropriate employee education program for you and supply volunteers and materials to help make it successful. For example, a small audiovisual unit could be placed in your office cafeteria or information leaflets put into payroll envelopes. Short teaching sessions could be scheduled before or after working hours. Since an estimated 88 million Americans have jobs, employed, employee health education can be a good way to reach people. It has been the experience of the ACS that once a successful cancer education program has been completed, both employees and employers have often requested programs on other aspects of cancer.

FIRE SAFETY TIPS FROM SNUFFY®

GOOD VACATION PLANS INCLUDE HOME FIRE SAFETY CHECK

A care-free vacation takes thoughtful planning. And thoughtful planning includes measures for leaving your home fire safe.

"Train your children to help you detect and correct potentially hazardous conditions. Give your kids the responsibility of helping to make the house fire safe before you leave," says Snuffy®, the Burger King Talking Fire Engine. Snuffy is the spokesperson for the Burger King Fire Safety Program which teaches youngsters the fundamentals of fire safety and prevention.

Before you leave, here are the things to check:

• Be sure the stove is turned off and that there are no flammable liquids or aerosols stored near the range. Even a pilot light can ignite vapors or fumes.

• Unplug all appliances, radios and televisions. Lightning storms or sudden electrical surges could cause a fire in this equipment while you're away.

• Don't leave pets in your home for long periods—even if you have someone coming in to feed them. If an animal becomes hungry, restless or lonely, it can actually cause a fire. For example, dogs have chewed through lamp cords, electrocuted themselves and started fires. Prowling cats have knocked over lighted table lamps and ignited the rug.

• Inspect the basement, attic and garage to be sure that flammable liquids and combustible material are properly stored or disposed of. Varnish, paint thinner and cleaning fluid should be stored in sealed metal containers, away from the furnace, water, electric or gas heaters. If oily or greasy rags must be kept, store them in sealed metal containers. Here, again, a pilot light could set off flames.

• If you have a fire hydrant in front of your home, make sure it is visible. Don't let shrubs, tall grass or trash cans obstruct access to the hydrant.

• Don't forget to tell your friends or neighbors and the police that you are going away. Ask them to keep an eye on your home. It's very important for safety and your own peace of mind.

• Finally, when you return from your vacation, check your smoke detector to make sure it's functioning properly. Batteries could run down, or other components fail while you're away.

Don't allow your vacation to be spoiled by a fire tragedy that could have been avoided by practicing good fire safety habits in the home.

MANAGING YOUR MONEY

Items Of Interest

If you have a joint taxable income of $25,000 or more, the advantages of tax-exempt income may be considerable.

For example, in a 37% tax bracket (taxable income of $30-$35,000), a 6% nontaxable yield is equivalent to 9.52% from taxable investment or more than half again as much, with even higher taxable equivalent yields in the higher brackets.

The market for municipal bonds, however, is not as fixed or orderly as the stock market. The individual purchaser may pay more for comparable bonds than a professional portfolio manager, and large investors can sometimes buy at a better price.

Thus, many investors prefer to invest in a bond fund that offers a large, diversified portfolio, and the guidance of a full-time professional management. In the Dreyfus Tax Exempt Bond Fund, for example, there is no sales charge when you invest or redeem, and your money is accessible to you without penalty at all times. Unlike some funds, all dividend income from this Fund is and has been 100% free of Federal tax. Write for a prospectus to The Dreyfus Tax Exempt Bond Fund, Box 604, 600 Lincoln Boulevard, Middlesex, N.J. 08846. Read it carefully before you invest. Or call toll free day or night 800-325-6400, Operator 510.

ST. LUKE BAPTIST

The day was very warm and humid, but a large crowd was present at the St. Luke Baptist Church on August 5, 1979 at the 11 o'clock for the regular annual homecoming day and services. Many homecomers from cities, far and near, were present. A very glorious day was enjoyed by all.

Rev. McLaughlin was in charge of the morning services. Rev. Alvin Jones and Rev. Randolph was rostrum guest. He brought out the story, based on "The Kings Signature To Get Home". This was well taken by homecomers and all. The combined choirs, adult and young adult, gave beautiful and uplifting music. The offering for the morning was good. The ladies of the church served a beautiful lunch. Over 500 plates were served and then more. The guests seemed to enjoy it somuch.

In the 3 p.m. services, Rev. Jack Willson and his singers gave inspiring music. Rev. Willson gave the message from Exodus 3:3. His subject "Go Back to the Burning Bush". He was great. He said that all Christians should go back to the burning bush in their lives and get a message from God. This service was enjoyed and many homecomers gave testimonies of joy and Thanksgiving for being able to be present.

Mrs. Sadie Scott, who carries out the thought that her mother, Mrs. Mollie Hunter (deceased) started in her life. Once a year give money in memory of loved ones gone; she, Mrs. Scott, reported $920.00 in memory money taken. That is the general offerings for the day and made over $2,000 taken for the day.

Rev. Jack Wilson will be the preacher for the week. Please come out and hear him.

Rev. and Mrs. McLaughlin are enjoying the visit of their son, wife and two daughters, Police Sgt. James McLaughlin from New York City.

The Cornerstone Baptist Sunday School Union was very well and carried out at the Mt. Calvary Church School on July 29. Vice President Deacon D. Moore was in charge.

The ladies of the church served a bountiful lunch and will meet next with Spring Hill Baptist Church.

For the homecoming, visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Canada are their sons and wives, Mr. Alfred Canada and wife, Roxyln and two children, Mr. Wesley Canada and wife, Gayle.

Visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hill are her brother-in-law and sisters, Mr. and Mrs. Harmon Elliott, Mrs. Emma Tweedy.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. James Tweedy are Mrs. Kate Sullivan, Mrs. Flossie Foster, Mrs. Smith, Tweedy's sisters and brother of Mr. James Tweedy, Mrs. Maggie Harvey and aunt, also visited in this home.

Mr. Harmon, wife and Mr. Earnest Elliott visited their sister, Mrs. Annie Hubbard Sunday.

OAKVILLE

Mr. and Mrs. James P. Lucado, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Gregg Martin were among the many people who attended the Clapp reunion Sunday at the home of Mrs. J. W. Clapp at Evergreen.

Mrs. G. W. Taylor, of Kingsport, Tenn., spent the week end with Mrs. M. W. Drinkard visited other relatives and friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Moses were host and hostess for the family get-to-gether Sunday. Those who attended, in addition to the family, were Mrs. G. W. Taylor, Kingsport, Tenn., Mrs. L. K. Bussey, Roanoke, Mrs. M. W. Drinkard and Mrs. M. A. Hunter.

Lakeside Park was the place Mrs. M. W. Drinkard chose to take some of her grandchildren for recreation last week.

Wednesday evening Mrs. L. K. Bussey had as her dinner guests Mrs. M. W. Drinkard, Jeff Drinkard, Lee Drinkard, Mary Beth Drinkard and Mrs. M. A. Hunter.

Miss Kathy Marshall and Miss Carol Randall, of Richmond, attended the wedding of a friend in Dover, Delaware, last Saturday.

Several people attended a tea at Trinity Methodist Church Sunday evening honoring Miss Peggy Watkins, bride elect of Mr. Ronnie Morris.

The U.M.W. of Mt. Comfort Church are looking forward to the covered dish meeting when the Connie Morris will be guest speaker, and Mrs. Grover Smith and Mr. Coffey will be guest musicians Thursday at 7 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Murrell Gordon were joint host and hostess for a birthday dinner honoring Mr. Louis Moore on his birthday. They were assisted by their children, Kay and Karen. Others attending the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Garland Burcher, Mr. Jimmy Burcher, Mrs. Clarence Weston and Janet, Mr. and Mrs. Beryl Covington, Mark, Walker and Marjorie Mae, Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Campbell, Tommy, Teresa, Todd and Curtis Moore.

Good News

Energy Conservation — A Way Of Life

To overcome the energy shortage, the U. S. must develop new domestic sources of energy and increase domestic supplies, as well as conserve the energy it has.

Conservation is becoming a way of life for many industries and companies. As a matter of fact, there is evidence that industry is doing a better job of conserving energy than the general public. The U.S. Department of Energy (DOE) reports that since 1973 the transportation and residential/commercial sectors of the United States have increased their shares of the total energy consumed in the U. S. On the other hand, industry has reduced its share of U. S. energy consumption from 40 percent in 1973 to 36 percent today, while increasing productivity by 12 percent. This means that industry now uses energy almost 18 percent more efficiently than it did at the time of the 1973 oil embargo.

The U. S. chemical industry, for example, has already exceeded the voluntary energy conservation goals set by the DOE, which aimed at reducing energy use by 14 percent between 1972 and 1980. In fact, chemical manufacturers participating in a voluntary conservation program have cut their fuel use per pound of output by 18.2 percent compared with 1972.

One major company, Union Carbide Corporation, has set an ambitious new voluntary energy conservation goal for 1985 that will cut energy consumption per pound of product produced by 30 percent compared with 1972. Union Carbide is already more than halfway to that goal.

Among the energy conservation developments that will help Union Carbide meet this goal is a new process for manufacturing low-density polyethlene, a basic plastic used to produce many consumer products. The new process can reduce energy consumption by about 75 percent.
